

Healthy Eating for Diabetes

Key Points:

- Eat regularly, don't skip meals
- Choose heart healthy foods (more fiber, less fat)
- Eat moderate portions
- Drink at least 8 glasses water or calorie/caffeine-free beverages daily

Fats
Sweets
&
Alcohol

Limit fats

A serving can be:

- 1 tsp. butter, margarine, mayo or oil
- 1 Tbsp. salad dressing or lowfat spreads
- 2 Tbsp. avocado

Limit sweets & desserts

If you want to include alcohol, talk to your health care provider.

Milk & Yogurt: 2-3 servings/day

A serving can be:

- 1 cup 1% or fat free milk
- 1 cup soy milk
- 2/3 cup plain fat-free yogurt

Meat & Others: 2-3 servings/day

A serving can be:

- 2-3 oz. lean meat, chicken, fish or lowfat cheese
- ½ to ¾ cup tuna or lowfat cottage cheese
- 1 egg, 1 Tbsp peanut butter or 4 oz tofu = ½ serving

Vegetables: 3 or more servings/day

A serving can be:

- ½ cup cooked vegetables
- 1 cup raw vegetables
- ¾ cup vegetable juice

Fruits: 2-4 servings/day

A serving can be:

- 1 small piece fruit
- ½ cup lite canned fruit
- 1 cup melon, berries
- ½ cup fruit juice
- ¼ cup dried fruit

Grains, Beans, Starchy Vegetables: 6-11 servings/day

A serving can be:

- ¾ cup unsweetened dry cereal, ½ cup bran cereal or ½ cup cooked cereal
- 1 slice bread, 1 small tortilla (6") or 4-6 crackers
- 1/4 bagel (1oz.), ½ English muffin, ½ pita bread, ½ hamburger or hot dog bun
- 1/3 cup cooked rice or pasta
- ½ cup grits, bulgur, potatoes, yams, corn, peas or winter squash
- ½ cup cooked dried beans or lentils (may also count as ½ meat serving)
